The future of our country and of the world depends on the education of people, young people particularly. Great education depends on great teachers.

In the most important area of faith and our spiritual wellbeing, God sent Jesus to us to teach and this teaching still has a high impact on lives some 2000 years later. Jesus did not need to be trained but through his work provided many insights into how to teach.

At Cornerstone we ‘champion the professional learning’ of our staff as an intentional strategy (see our strategic goals) through a range of practices. The ‘Action Now Classroom Ready Teacher’ report now being considered by the Federal Government has a strong focus on preparing high quality graduates to enter the teaching profession. To hear about this report please click here.

Cornerstone College has begun a relationship with Flinders University to provide the ‘well-structured practical experience for teacher education students’ referred to in the above report. Currently we have ten pre-service teachers working with our teachers in varying capacities.

The focus of this article is the five pre-service interns who we selected and who are now working with us. We are one of two schools in the state currently working with Flinders interns. These interns participate in:

- 20 days observation and orientation in Term 1
- Teaching for all of Term 2
- Ten hours per week of voluntary work in the College in Semester 2

We live in a society that worships success. Our lives are based around the need to perform and produce so that we can be seen to be valuable. From reception we are graded, grouped and categorised based on our ability to retain information and repeat certain tasks. The grading of our productivity continues on into tertiary education and the workforce. The most successful students get the highest paying jobs while those with fewer marketable skills end up with less. We live in a success based culture.

However, this is not entirely a bad thing. Competition breeds innovation and growth. People who work hard should reap the rewards of their efforts. Without motivation and drive nothing would ever be accomplished. The tricky part is keeping our desire for success and productivity in healthy perspective.

In many ways, that is what Ash Wednesday is all about. For hundreds of years the Christian church has set aside a forty day period (not including the Sundays) to contemplate our own mortality and failings. Through reflection on our fallen nature we come to appreciate the limits of our striving for success. No matter how hard we might work or how successful we will become we are all in need of forgiveness and grace. Just as we can all taste of success, we can all taste of defeat.

Education, therefore, should be about more than just pushing people to reach their full potential. A holistic education should embrace the reality of failure, whether it be academic, moral or spiritual. We must learn to appreciate our own limitations and failings so that our successes can be seen for what they truly are; God’s gracious activity within us.

Workplace Learning (WPL) for students in Year 11

Going home to families this week is a letter of information regarding the College’s Year 11 Workplace Learning (WPL) program and the formal Agreement form that must be completed before this involvement occurs. For many students this is the last opportunity they have to ‘test’ career planning and options before making critical decisions related to Year 12 and Tertiary study.

As school instruction time is provided for this activity all students are expected to undertake WPL. Two opportunities (25-29 May and 29 June - 3 July) are indicated in the letter and these dates are linked to students either participating in Outdoor Education or not in Semester 1. Some employers or businesses may only offer other dates. In this case, individual students can negotiate this but must be aware that they will have to ‘catch up’ any school work that has been missed. Negotiating school holiday time is another option.

Completion of WPL will be recorded in the Student Achievement Record as an extra-curricular activity and the Employer Feedback Sheet can be placed in students Personal Portfolio.

WPL opportunities at the Zoo and the SA Police Band have been advertised as there are very limited places. Other high demand areas by email over the course of the year.

Students and parents are also encouraged to carefully explore relevant websites, attend Career Expos or other specific industry advertised events. Please see below for some key career events for 2015:

National Careers and Employment Expo, Friday 22 - Saturday 23 May Jubilee Pavilion, Adelaide Showground

Tertiary Studies and Careers Expo
Sunday 14 - Monday 15 June

Tuesday 28 July, 6.00-8.00pm

Open Days
Friday 14 - Sunday 16 August - Universities, TAFE SA, other training organisations

Supporting parents

The Careers Team is keen to support parents and are available for appointments, phone or email contact. In addition, participating in a Parents as Career Transition Support (PACTS) workshop may help you support your student with their career decision making. Steve Collis Visit
Innovative Teaching Workshop
On Friday 13 February, 12 Language and Middle School staff had the opportunity to attend a workshop run by Steve Collis on innovative teaching and personalising learning. Steve teaches French and is also the Director of Innovation at Sydney Northern Beaches Christian School. He is a well-known presenter for personalising student learning and innovative delivery in teaching. It was an informative and productive day enjoyed by everyone.

Steve shared his knowledge, experience and resources with us and we explored lots of new possibilities on how we could implement them in our programs. The workshop broadened our views and provided us with many innovative ideas. We had the opportunity to discuss how to provide a student-centred delivery with a greater scope and flexibility to our learners, particularly in the Middle School setting. Staff are looking forward to putting what we learned into practice and are committed to bringing a high degree of quality to the teaching and learning at Cornerstone.

Parent Workshops
Helping your child make career choices
Free of charge
We are committed to consistently offering our parent community meaningful support, tips and advice. Our Careers Counsellor Virginia Gare will again be running workshops for parents on helping your child make their future career choices.

Participating in a Parents as Career Transition Support (PACTS) workshop will help you support your child with their career decision making. Research tells us that parents want to help their children with career decisions, but only 20% of parents feel they have sufficient knowledge to do this.

The workshops are available to parents of all year levels, although they may be most relevant to those with children in Year 10-12. The first workshop will be held in the evening of Tuesday 17 March, with repeat workshops being offered on Thursday 14 May, Wednesday 24 June and Wednesday 19 August. Each will be held in Anakalypsi (Library) 6.45pm for a 7.00pm start, finishing at 9.00pm.

Places are strictly limited to ensure attendees receive personalised support, so please be quick because last time they booked out. The workshops are for parents only, your child does not attend with you. For bookings, please click here.

Meet the Teachers Evening
A large cohort of parents of Year 12 students attended our annual Meet the Year 12 Teachers evening on Wednesday 11 February. Our aim for the evening was to provide family members with some insight into the studies their sons or daughters will be undertaking in Year 12, as well as provide an opportunity to hear about some of the unique aspects of Year 12 at Cornerstone College.

An introductory session outlined the College’s expectations of Year 12 students, while also discussing with parents the support structures in place at Cornerstone to enable each student to achieve individual excellence.

Parents were also able to meet with each of their son or daughter’s subject teachers to familiarise themselves with the specific details of each course including assessments and key concepts to be covered as well as information about excursions or, if applicable, camps.

As well as providing all with a wonderful opportunity to meet and share aspirations for our Year 12 students, the practical information handed out from subject teachers will assist parents to support their children in their endeavours this year. A Study Organiser was collected by each family to assist with planning this year and students whose families did not attend the evening were issued with their Study Organiser in Home Group.

A copy of the Parent Information Booklet 2015 is available by clicking here, while individual subject teachers will be able to forward their information sheets via email if requested.

Thank you to all who took part in this evening. We look forward to a successful and rewarding year with our Year 12 class of 2015.

Last week Mikarla Doecke (old scholar, 2007) spoke at assembly about her experiences since leaving school. Above and Beyond is a regular assembly segment where current students or old scholars share their achievements to motivate, encourage and inspire our students to work towards their full potential.

I particularly invited Mikarla to speak as she spent six months working on Christmas Island at the immigration centres. There are three centres on Christmas Island, two for families, women and children, and one for single adult males. Mikarla worked in the centre with the males. At any given time there were approximately 2,000 in the centre from all across the globe, from Sri Lanka, Iran, Afghanistan, Sudan and many other places. Her job at the centre was to search and store people’s property for safe keeping when they arrived at the island, to give them clothes and other supplies and to help facilitate the transfers of people to the Australian mainland.

Mikarla’s interest in this area was sparked by her independent research internship with the Australian Refugee Association during University. “It's such a controversial part of Australia’s politics, so it was quite interesting to be a part of it first-hand.”

Mikarla gave one very powerful piece of advice for students. "I’ve got one piece of practical advice that has helped shaped me and give me many of my great opportunities. If you’re looking for exciting opportunities in your career and just life in general I think a great way to do that is to volunteer. I truly believe volunteering opens your eyes to many and varied experiences you probably would never get otherwise and it can also lead to career opportunities.”

We thank Mikarla from sharing her experience. Our students have amazing opportunities available to them, and we encourage every one of them to consider what their future could be and to grab every opportunity that comes their way. Mikarla’s story also shows that you need to persevere and put in effort, that these opportunities don’t generally just accidentally happen. To read more about Mikarla’s experience, click here.

Middle School Swimming Carnival
The Middle School Inter-House Swimming Carnival was held at the Mount Barker Mountain Pool on Friday 6 February. The weather was superb - a hot day, so there were many keen participants and lots of positive and encouraging support. The day started with competitive races in age groups and then the hungry students enjoyed a scrumptious sausage sizzle.

In the afternoon, students participated in year levels in a range of activities - volleyball on the lawn, novelty events in the pool and free swimming. The results were close throughout the day both in the swimming events and the volleyball.

Overall results
1st: Battunga  3rd: Moorak
2nd: Naturi  4th: Aroona

Congratulations to the individual age group winners:

PICSE Industry Placement Scholarship

In November last year and during the January school holidays two Cornerstone students Ned Ryan-Schofield and Silas Vincent participated in the PICSE Industry Placement Scholarship.

In order to be involved in this both boys had to apply and be interviewed to see whether they would be suitable candidates. The PICSE Industry Placement Scholarship consisted of two experiences:

1. A week long camp last November where they went to places like Calperum Station, Banrock Station, Marine Research facilities and wineries to see science in action in the Primary Industry.

2. A week long work experience placement with a scientist. Ryan was situated at Calperum station and Silas at the Wine centre.

Here are the boys reflections on the experience:

My PICSE experience was really beneficial, as it allowed me to experience science in the real world, not just a dusty old textbook. It was really interesting to meet professionals in the field, and listen to their experiences, opinions and advice. I found the camp and work placement enjoyable and informative, and am glad that I applied for the scholarship. - Ryan

The PICSE scholarship was a great opportunity to learn about careers in Primary Industry. It opened my eyes to the wide range of possibilities in this field, from lab work to environmental conservation. The five day camp caters to any student who shows an interest in science and is willing to ‘have a go’ at any opportunity that presents itself. Everyone on the camp got along really well as we were all like-minded and it was a great casual atmosphere with some fun, memorable moments. Our Supervisors for this trip were easy going and informative. Whether we were looking at viticulture, salinity in soil, aquaculture, citrus processing or even chocolate production we were guided by knowledgeable business owners and producers.

For me, the second part of this experience was an industry placement week with Wine Innovation Centre at Adelaide Uni. The whole experience was relaxed, engaging and very ‘hands on’. It was an invaluable experience, and I highly recommend any student applying for this scholarship. - Silas

Uniform and Make-up

The College uniform encourages students to take pride in their appearance, eliminates competition in what students wear and shows a commitment to the College community. We have been working with our girls to ensure their College dress reaches the knees and with our boys to ensure they are clean shaven.

All students are required to have their hair away from their face at all times and tied back at the nape of the neck or in a ponytail or bun if shoulder length or longer. It should not be extreme in style or colour so as to draw attention to the student.

The College aims to promote positive self-perception amongst our students, and strives to reflect this in our policies regarding students’ personal presentation. Whilst it is our preference that students do not wear make-up at the College, we are currently reviewing our make-up policy to ensure all students feel valued for who they are and supported in their transition into adulthood.

I would like to thank students and parents for the constructive feedback we have received in this regard and look forward to continuing to work in partnership in the development of our young people. Any updates in policy will be communicated through connections at the earliest opportunity.
